ARE YOU STARTING 2021 RIGHT?

2020 is behind us, and a lot of people are saying "good riddance." Many are looking at last year as one of the worst on record. I'm sure a lot of you readers can relate, and I have several things that I'm hoping will be different in 2021. The biggest one is the vaccine, of course — with the COVID-19 still very much alive and well in many places, we need the new vaccines more than ever! I suspect it will take a few months before most folks have the chance to see the vaccine, but I do believe that we will ...

3 COOL AIRPORTS THAT WILL LEAVE YOU BEGGING FOR A LAYOVER

While travel has been down over the past year, people still have places to be and things to do all over the world. Air travel is still very much alive, and many carriers have adapted to the global situation. While travel numbers may be down, one thing hasn't changed: Countless travelers still find themselves trapped in airports for hours on end waiting for their next flight. But not every layover is something to bemoan. Take a look at these three airports worth getting stuck in ...
